

NUMBER 246 HEADS LIST

SECRETARY BAKER DREW THE FIRST CAPSULE IN THE 1918 DRAWING.

Washington, June 27.—The drawing of numbers for the registrants of 1918 took place today, Secretary Baker drawing the first number, which was 246. The first one drawn last year was 138.

Numbers 1168 and 1818 were the second and third respectively and thus the drawing continued until the end.

Draft number one came out of the 644th capsule. The ceremony was much the same as that which marked the drawing a year ago.

This time it was a much smaller affair and in view of the fact that the classification system more nearly determines the order of service than does the numerical order, it is not surrounded with such dramatic interest.

The first ten numbers affecting Kentucky in the order drawn were as follows: 154, 10, 29, 210, 17, 74, 2036, 145 and 297.

ANOTHER CALL MADE FOR MEN

WHO ARE IN THE DRAFT AND QUALIFIED BY EDUCATION AND EXPERIENCE.

Major Henry F. Rhodes, of Frankfort and the Adjutant General's Office, sends out a special call for 412 men of grammar school education and who are in class one of the draft, to volunteer for service and receive expert training at government expense. These men may volunteer up to and including July 2 and will have to report to the Commanding Officers, University of Kentucky, Lexington, Ky., on July 15.

The government is calling for men of grammar school education and with some mechanical experience or an aptitude for such work as blacksmiths, carpenters, chauffeurs, electricians, and radio operators. The quota has not been fixed for this county, but will be within a short time. If a sufficient number have not volunteered by July 3, the local board will proceed to draft the number needed.

This is a fine opportunity for young men who wish to specialize on an occupation that will benefit them in both civil and military life.

NEGRO HERO A CRAP SHOOTER

(By International News Service.)

Albany, N. Y., June 27.—"Listen here, black men. I'm coming out on a point and if I make it the whole five of us is going to enlist with Uncle Sam, before we get caught in the draft," declared Henry Johnson, an Albany negro youth.

His companions acquiesced and Henry "came out" on four. "It takes a try to carry an ace," shouted Henry as he petted the dice and "get them warm." Waugh! The ace and try showed and the five enlisted.

Henry is now weighted down with a French War Cross and the Golden Palm, the war's greatest honors, while convalescing in a hospital. He went over the top single-handed and carved a few of the Huns who shot him "easy picking" and put the rest of them to flight before he fell from his wounds.

NEGRO HELD FOR ESPIONAGE

Bowling Green, Ky., June 26.—James Ewing, 49 years old, a negro, was lodged in jail today by United States Deputy Marshal Claude M. Richardson charged with violating the espionage act. A wheel came off Ewing's wagon, and he left it in the middle of the road. When thirty army trucks with 200 soldiers passed it was removed to the side of the road. He became very angry and swore, saying he wished they would go to a place from which they never would return.

REX TODAY.

"THE GHOSTS OF YESTERDAY."

Norma Talmadge's Greatest Production.

You are always satisfied and pleased by a drama depicting the spiritual awakening of a man and a woman, and the ripening of a full true love. Then, by all means, be sure to see "Ghosts of Yesterday," the thrilling Select Star Series photoplay, featuring Norma Talmadge, who will appear at the Rex Theater today.

As Ruth Grahame, the dove of peace, and later as Jeanne La Fleur, the bird of paradise, Miss Talmadge displays her high artistry in this dual role. Gorgeously produced and superbly acted by a all-star cast, "Ghosts of Yesterday" depicts the spiritual growth of a cabaret singer, the queen of the Bal Tabarin, from a wanton into a loving woman with a heart of true gold. The artist, Howard Marston, feels at first that no one can replace his last wife—for Ruth Grahame had rescued him from the suicide with which he was about to crown a life of dissipation—but later he recognizes the change which had been wrought in Jeanne and learns to love her, as she does him, with "the love which passeth all understanding."

FARMERS' PLEA TO CITY AND COUNTY OFFICIALS.

To all officers of the law in general, and to the Mayor and Police Force in Hopkinsville particularly:

Gentlemen: I want to say at the outset that nothing in this article is intended to reflect upon any of you. Hopkinsville is a well-governed city. The vagrancy law is a new one, has just become operative and a degree of allowance will be made until it can be made a part of the machinery of the Criminal Practice.

Born of the grim necessities of war, it is to the farmer the most important law enacted by the State Legislature. Its rigid enforcement will mean the successful cultivation and housing of the crops of this and every other county. Its non-enforcement will mean disaster not only to the farmers, but to our armies at the front. It is then the duty of all good citizens to aid in its enforcement. That's my excuse for this communication.

I want to make only one suggestion, to impress upon your minds only one point: All the loafers in this county flock to Hopkinsville—white or black, young or old. They come to the country to work. When they want to loaf a spell they strike out to town. They find all the other loafers have just gotten there or are on their way. All idlers are compelled to have company whether they shoot craps or each other. When their money is gone they go back to the country to the farms which they left without so much as your leave. Meanwhile the crops have been neglected at a critical stage and some boys in the trenches will go hungry next year as a consequence.

This great evil, this evil so great that it cannot be estimated, is what the vagrancy law is aimed at. If it is remedied, and remedied it must be, it will have to be done right there in Hopkinsville. That's what I wanted to brand on your memory. Hopkinsville has the power to make this law a success. Hopkinsville can stop the loafing. All the arrests must be made in Hopkinsville. It may crowd her jails for a few days. It may keep her Mayor, City Police and City Court busy for a week or two, but she can do it, and she will do it. Our little Anti Loafers League (it's little, but it's doing things) will help; all patriots will help. Every intelligent man knows that starvation will lose the war for one side or the other. Shall our side lose because of it? Ask the Anti Loafers to call a meeting at the Courthouse Monday afternoon.

CLEELUM, WASH., BURNED

Fire Tuesday swept the business quarter and ten blocks of residences at Cleelum, Wash. City officers estimate that there are 1,500 persons homeless and place the property loss at more than $1,000,000.

All coal mines in the vicinity suspended operations and crowds of miners, experienced in the use of explosives, went from house to house blowing them up in an effort to check the flames. Twenty-four blocks of buildings including the principal business structures, have been destroyed.

SMALL BOY BADLY HURT

A small son, six or seven years of age, of John Sholar, who lives on the M. V. Owen farm on the Church Hill pike, was run over by a wagon Wednesday afternoon and seriously hurt. He had gone to the wheat field, where the threshing was being done, with his brother and a colored woman. The weather was very warm and the child crawled under a wagon loaded with wheat in order to rest in the shade. The whistle blew for work. This frightened the team partially hitched to the wagon and caused the team to start off and before the child could get out the wagon ran over him just above the hips. He is seriously hurt and bruised but the doctors think he has a good chance of recovery.

LITTLE CHILD BURIED.

Eva Elizabeth Allen, aged two years, a little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Allen, died Wednesday night. The funeral and burial took place yesterday afternoon.
